

Constitution Revision Task Force

Come to a Q&A session to learn about Constitution changes TUCW needs to make, as we move to policy governance.

A series of nine Q&A sessions has been scheduled. These are your opportunity to ask questions and provide input on this important process as it evolves, and educate yourself prior to the congregational meeting to vote on amending the constitution which will be on Sunday, May 15th.

The first of the Q&A sessions will be next Wednesday, March 9 at 7 PM in the Library. See the full schedule of meetings and lots more information.

Why are we doing this? Because our church is growing! - and out-growing old structures. The proposed changes will align us with policy governance and give the Board more flexibility while delegating operational management to Rev. John as Chief of Staff. In addition, detailed language about how things are done in committees will be moved to committee charters, leaving us with a slimmer more readable constitution focused on the essentials.

Make sure your voice is heard - your input is vital. Plan now to attend at least one of the sessions.
